

Portugal Critical Of UN

Hints Country May Leave World Group

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar said in a speech prepared for delivery today Portugal "will surely be among the first countries to leave the United Nations organization."

"Meanwhile we shall refuse them our collaboration in everything that is not in our direct interest," he declared.

Reporting to the National Assembly and to the nation, the 72-year-old dictator criticized the United Nations, the United States and Britain for their failure to come to Portugal's support when India invaded Goa, Damao and Diu last month.

Referring to the U.N. mission of safeguarding peace, Salazar said he believes "we have the right to hear whether our presence and our collaboration are already useless in the United Nations."

"Even if we do not, I do not know yet whether we shall be the first country to abandon the United Nations, but surely we will be among the first. Meanwhile we shall refuse them our collaboration in everything that is not in our direct interest."

That statement was as near as Salazar came in a 10,000-word speech to suggesting direct action on three possible moves diplomatic sources here had expected him to announce as an aftermath of the loss of the Portuguese Indian enclaves.

They were possible withdrawal from the United Nations, revocation of the century-old British-Portuguese alliance and refusal to renew the Azores Island air base agreement with the United States when it expires this year.

The premier spoke as security officers still hunted the remnants of a rebel band that launched an unsuccessful New Year's Day revolt against Salazar's government. The Army Ministry accused the underground Communist party of planning and leading the uprising.

Some Action In Setting Trial Docket

A considerable amount of action was taken on criminal cases in the setting of the trial docket in Circuit Court Tuesday.

The case of Bobby Dean Palmer, charged with molesting a minor, was withdrawn by Prosecuting Attorney J. R. Fritz.

A final decision was made concerning the case of Roscoe Caldwell, charged with forgery. Caldwell pleaded guilty on Oct. 21, 1961. A pre-sentencing investigation was ordered. On Jan. 2, 1962 Caldwell was sentenced to two years in custody of the Missouri State Department of corrections. William F. Brown was the attorney for the defendant.

The trial date for Irwin Gallo-way, charged with felonious assault, was set for Jan. 24. William F. Brown is his attorney.

The trial date for Joan Rumsey, charged with felonious assault, was set for Feb. 20. William F. Brown is her attorney.

The case of Vernon LeRoy Powell, charged with tampering with an automobile, was withdrawn by the prosecuting attorney.

The case of Burris Keith Pulliam, charged with tampering with an automobile, was withdrawn by the prosecuting attorney.

The trial date for Audrey Long, charged with stealing more than $50, was set for Jan. 10. Earl T. Crawford is her attorney.

A hearing date for the case of John E. Gonzales, charged with molesting a minor, was set for March 7.

Graham Is Low Bidder

Culvert Contract Awarded For Industrial Park Drive

The City Council, Tuesday night, awarded a contract to Paul Graham for the construction of concrete box culverts in place of a bridge on the new Industrial Drive, being constructed in the Industrial Park in West Sedalia. The park is to be used for the next few years by the Boeing Company in connection with the locating of bachelor quarters, and office space in the Precision Engineering building.

Graham's bid was $7,974 or $1,452 lower than the engineer's estimate. Graham also had a bid on alternate number two which was for the bridge at $8,948. The engineer's estimate on the bridge was $9,665.

United Phone Workers Ask Higher Wage

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The United Telephone Companies of Kansas and Missouri face a strike of 762 union employees in 74 towns unless agreement is reached on a new contract soon. Communications Workers of America sources say.

George Hearne, a vice president said in Kansas City the company had not received any such notice from the union.

The old contract ran out Dec. 1. Negotiations were broken off in Kansas City Dec. 15, according to a union statement issued at Warrensburg, Mo. Tuesday. The strike date, it added, would be set by CWA headquarters in Washington.

A CWA spokesman in Kansas City said the union sought an average wage increase of 8.8 cents an hour for traffic, commercial and plant employees, and company had countered with 4.5 cents an hour.

$46,000 Project Is Authorized at WAFB

The Air Force has authorized the Army Corps of Engineers as the construction agent to carry out a $46,000 hangar modification to provide a fueling system facility at Whiteman Air Force Base, according to a joint statement issued Tuesday by Sens. Stuart Symington and Edward V. Long.

The engineers will advertise for bids and award the contract, the senators said.

Councilman Lawrence Koeller reported a bad condition at Ninth and Hancock where a concrete slab had been poured to take care of draining water in the area instead of a street drain. Mayor Silverman ordered City Engineer Robert Cunningham to make an

U2 Crashes In Swamps; Pilot Saved

PICAYUNE, Miss. (AP) — The pilot of a flaming U-2 high altitude jet reconnaissance plane parachuted to safety Tuesday night—into the top of a tall cypress tree in a snake-infested swamp. He was rescued today more than 10 hours later.

Military searchers located the wreckage of the plane after plucking the pilot from his uncomfortable perch. The craft was a modified version of the secret nuclear-debris test plane figuring in a world incident when downed in Russia two years ago.

Air Force Capt. Charles P. Stratton, 32, bailed out of his flaming craft about 9:30 p.m. (CST). A Coast Guard helicopter spotted him about 1 a.m. Rescuers moved in by boat and reached Stratton a little after 7 a.m. He later went by plane to Keesler Air Force Base at Biloxi, Miss. His condition was good.

It was not immediately known what caused the crash and the Air Force threw up a veil of secrecy around the crash.

Orders New Army Divisions So Guardsmen Can Go Home

Infantry, Armored Units Called for By Kennedy

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President Kennedy ordered today the immediate formation of two new Army divisions, expanding the service to 16 permanent divisions.

The Palm Beach White House said the activation of the two divisions would permit the release "later this year," with no time specified, of the 32nd and 49th National Guard Divisions which were called to duty last Oct. 15 in the armed forces buildup precipitated by the Berlin crisis.

One of the new regular divisions, the 1st Armored, will be activated at Ft. Hood, Tex. The other, the 5th Mechanized Infantry, will be organized at Ft. Carson, Colo.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said Kennedy approved the action at meetings Tuesday and this morning with Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and the nation's top defense officials.

He said it was the first item of business on this morning's agenda, after the joint chiefs of staff flew into Palm Beach from Washington for the preparedness talks.

Qualified sources said the two National Guard divisions summoned to duty should not anticipate returning home for at least several months. The 32nd of Wisconsin, is training at Ft. Lewis, Wash., and the 49th of Texas, at Camp Polk, La.

The Guard divisions, the announcement said, "will be released later this year as the international situation and the readiness status of the two new divisions permit." In the meantime, it added, the 32nd and 49th will continue on duty as a key element.

Concerning the Guard divisions, the temporary White House declared:

"The quick and effective mobilization of this force has demonstrated in unmistakable terms our determination to resist Communist aggression."

Many Reservists called to uniform in the 1961 buildup were assigned to the National Guard divisions to fill out their units.

Both the 1st Armored and 5th Infantry will be activated under the new Army divisional structure announced by Kennedy last May. In a message to Congress, today's announcement recalled, the President "stressed that greater firepower, mobility and flexibility would be achieved."

The 1st Armored will be the first of its type organized under the new concept, known in the Pentagon by the initials ROAD.

It will contain six mechanized battalions and four tank battalions, comprising 15,593 officers and enlisted men.

The 5th Infantry, as a mechanized division, will consist of two infantry battalions, six mechanized battalions and two tank battalions. Its projected strength is 16,119.

Kennedy charted a session with the joint chiefs, Vice President Johnson, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Deputy Secretary Roswell L. Gilpatric and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, the chief executive's personal military adviser.

Ordinance Not Seconded

Sedalians Need Not Worry About Snow on Sidewalks

By D. KELLY SCRUTON

Sedalians need not worry for at least two weeks, if snow falls in that period, of being arrested for not shoveling their sidewalks.

The City Council Tuesday night failed to reach an agreement on an ordinance which would compel Sedalians to clean their walks of snow and ice, and the ordinance died for want of a second for a second reading.

Since last December there has been discussion over an ordinance which provides for arrest of violators of it—but it has since been learned no such ordinance exists.

The ordinance of old was repealed some years ago with disagreement over enforcement and was never restored.

A new ordinance was introduced Tuesday night for the cleaning of the sidewalks in both the downtown or business areas, and in residential areas. The discussion came about when Councilman George Bryant stated that he objected to it including the residential area. Bryant explained it was not fair to punish some property owners in the residential areas who had sidewalks and others who did not have sidewalks. He also brought out how could the ordinance be enforced if the city didn't clean the walks around the City Hall, and its parking lots.

"The city, I believe," Bryant said, "classes the parking lots also as walkways, and sidewalks around each would have to be cleaned. I wonder if the city has enough employees to carry on with snow cleaning with all these areas, much less the crosswalks on the downtown streets."

Councilman E. Glenn Lewis, chairman of the Street and Alley Department, said "I assure you we don't have the employees for all this work. You can imagine just how many crosswalks there are in Sedalia with 135 miles of streets."

Councilman Robert Bader remarked, "I don't see how it can be enforced, and also have the help to do our share. We have a weed ordinance, and it was all we could do to take care of our own weeds, much less follow the ordinance and cut other weeds. We still have that weed problem in the summer."

Councilman Lawrence Koeller told the Council, "I am not in favor of penalizing the people who have sidewalks, just because there are sidewalks, when new areas don't have sidewalks to be attended to and people in those areas have to walk in the streets. These new additions are mostly without walks."

Mayor Silverman brought the discussion to an end by stating "The matter is a controversial subject. As I see it the ordinance has died for want of a second. I think we should have a little time for further discussion and then draw up a suitable ordinance for the problem."

Anyone finding the log should call Whiteman Air Force Base at Knob Noster, MO. 3-5511, extension 650, 651, 3515, or 424.

Officials will arrange to pick up the data immediately and pay the $100 reward.

Though no reward is offered for other forms or pieces of material from the aircraft, they are considered of high value. Contact regarding any findings may be made at the above telephone numbers.

'Password' Is Lacking As Real Winner

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—One easy way to repair a midseason hole in a TV schedule is to plug it with a nighttime version of a daytime show.

On one occasion, this economical expedient even turned into a hit show—NBC's "The Price Is Right." It is doubtful, however, that the same lightning will strike CBS' prime-time edition of "Password," which started Tuesday night.

The game itself—a sort of word association gimmick—is slight and far from gripping. Any fun and excitement must come from the skill of the players. In the first show, Carol Burnett carried the entertainment load by herself in spite of the presence of Garry Moore and two other players.

One vital reason for the continued success of "The Price Is Right" is that the home audience can bid along with the studio contestants. That's not possible with "Password." Anyway, the show is not right for evening, although it is a pleasant enough time-killer earlier in the day.

Fred Astaire's ABC anthology series Tuesday night was a short, offbeat vignette with an intriguing title, "The Cake Baker." It was a sad little story of a lonely young woman, silently escaping the boring confinement of housework and child rearing by daydreaming.

She tries to get back to normal by plunging into PTA work. But her husband, inconvenienced and not understanding, destroys her one chance to regain mental health. At the end, she apparently has slipped away from harsh reality for good.

Shelley Winters played the mentally disturbed wife quietly and effectively.

Monday's flower-covered Rose Parade from Pasadena was also covered with free plugs, separated by the paid commercials.

Cowboy stars—including some most of us had never heard of—were riding their horses past the cameras hoping for—and receiving—a word about their shows. There were floats from trucking associations, insurance firms, cities interested in tourist trade and others, in such profusion that the orange juice and cereal sponsors of the two network shows sort of got lost in the shuffle.

And speaking of free plugs, Danny Thomas' Monday night show put in an especially kind word for "The Dick Van Dyke Show" ("Let's stay home and watch the Dick Van Dyke Show. I hear it's a riot."). That's what might be called cross-plugging—Danny has a financial and emotional stake in the comedy which moves this week to a Wednesday night spot in CBS' lineup.

State Department officials intended to study it carefully for any slight change in Gromyko's position which might point the way toward a new approach to the seemingly deadlocked dispute.

After Thompson's complete report has been gone over thoroughly, new instructions will be dispatched to him on undertaking a follow-up session with Gromyko.

Gromyko's reported reiteration of the Kremlin line in Berlin did not come as any big surprise here.

The pattern of discussions with the Soviets in the past is that at the outset both sides expound their known positions.

Mother Claims Body Of Barbara Burns
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Harriet Burns, widow of comedian Bob Burns, has claimed the body of her daughter, Barbara Ann.

Barbara, 23, died Monday of an overdose of barbiturates, her third since August. She had a history of narcotics arrests and served two 90-day terms—one in jail, one in a state hospital—for addiction.

Religious Conviction Costs Fireman a Job
JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Robert Gill, 29, who refuses to carry a firearm because of religious convictions, has lost his job with the Johnstown fire department because he refused to accept a transfer to the city's police force.

Gill, a member of the Church of the Brethren, said it was a church ruling and a personal conviction that members of his faith should not bear firearms in police work and military service.

City officials had transferred Gill and three other firemen to the police force as special officers because of a new administrative policy.

Expect to Remove Dominican Sanctions
WASHINGTON (AP)—Diplomatic and economic sanctions against the Dominican Republic are expected to be removed Thursday by the council of the Organization of American States.

Diplomatic sources here said Tuesday that the action probably will be taken on the recommendation of a special committee which has made periodic visits to the Caribbean island since the sanctions were imposed in 1960.

Accidents

Miss Linda Bunn, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Bunn, 1506 South Barrett, received minor hurts about 4:40 p.m. Tuesday in a two-car collision at State Fair Blvd. and Broadway. Extensive damage resulted to both cars.

Miss Bunn, driver of one car, was headed east on Broadway in a 1958 Buick sedan while a 1954 Ford sedan of Mrs. Roy Minnis, 2222 West Third, driven by Victor Lee Minnis, 19, was headed south on State Fair Blvd. across Broadway.

The left side of the Buick was extensively damaged and the front end of the Ford also extensively damaged. After the cars collided, the Buick spun around and threw Miss Bunn around in the car.

A police summons was issued to the youth to appear in police court Saturday morning.

More Berlin Tensions Are Lying Ahead

BERLIN (AP)—East-West war over Berlin appears less likely than a year ago but look for new periods of crisis and tension ahead.

That seems to be the feeling of both Berliners and some Western officials.

Two reasons are heard why war seems more remote than in 1961.

One is that Soviet Premier Khrushchev apparently takes more seriously than he did a year ago Western determination to defend West Berlin and its access routes. Khrushchev has withdrawn his deadline for signing a peace treaty with Communist East Germany and has not rattled his missiles recently.

The other reason is that the status quo in Berlin is more bearable to the Communists than the situation that existed a year ago.

Then thousands of refugees each month, including many technicians, teachers and students, were pouring out of East Germany through West Berlin. The satellite regime was threatened with collapse.

The Communists raised their border wall through the heart of the city in August. That dammed the tide of refugees to a trickle, solving their most critical problem.

Some quarters expect new tension over Berlin early this year, particularly if the Communists find the West firmly opposed to concessions in the diplomatic probe now starting.

Some observers believe negotiations over Berlin could be long delayed in starting or break down along the way.

The Communists then could be counted upon to boost tension. The easiest way to manufacture a new crisis would be for the East Germans to harass traffic along the access routes to West Berlin across East German territory, or to interfere further with traffic between East and West Berlin.

The Western Allies do not recognize the East German regime as a legitimate government. They insist that the Soviet Union take full responsibility for the satellite's actions. Moscow, in its campaign to get East Germany recognized, shows increasing reluctance to do this.

Some observers predict any new Berlin crisis will include a strong Communist pitch to the growing bloc of neutral and African-Asian countries. The Reds would try to shift complete blame for the new threat to war on the Allies and create new pressure for the West to make concessions to avert war.

"At this time I wish to urge my fellow citizens who are eligible to vote, to do so in this primary and not let approximately one-fourth of the people make the selection."

The first candidate to file for the Democratic nomination for councilman of the Third Ward is James A. "Pat" Clark, 1001 South Massachusetts. Clark served as councilman from the Third Ward during the term April 15, 1958 to April 15, 1960.

Lewis succeeded Clark as a member of the Council from the Third Ward. Clark did not seek the office in the 1960 election.

Councilman Lewis is well known in Sedalia being active in city and civic affairs since coming to Sedalia from Boone County in September, 1945. He came here after World War II. He is a veteran of that conflict. He entered the grocery business Dec. 17, 1945, and now owns and operates the Zero Market, Main and Ohio.

Lewis served nine years on the Bothwell Memorial Hospital board, prior to entering the council. He is serving his second term as a member of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce and is director in charge of the retail merchants division.

Lewis is past commander of Pettis County Post 16, American Legion; Past Chief De Guerre of the 40 and 8, Seventh District. He is past president of both the local and the state Retail Grocers' Association.

Bob Kennedy Happy With Year's Work

WASHINGTON (AP)—One of Robert F. Kennedy's biggest satisfactions in his first year as attorney general came from "hitting the big-time operators of organized crime in their bankroll," he said today.

The bankroll, he emphasized in an interview, consists of receipts from gambling.

Another source of pleasure in 1961, Kennedy said, was Justice Department activity to protect the rights of Negroes.

He said he was also pleased with the work of his 31,000-member department in enforcing anti-trust laws and in less publicized fields ranging from tax law enforcement to representing the government in Indian claim cases.

The organized crime and civil rights fields were considered important enough to merit separate year-end reports to President Kennedy.

The attorney general cited the enactment of new anti-racketeering legislation and creation of an intelligence unit within the department's criminal division as major developments in the fight against crime.

One new law makes it a felony to transmit bets by interstate wire. Kennedy said this forced the majority of the nation's leading race wire services—basic to the operation of gambling syndicates—to close down. Among the casualties, he said, were two kings in the business, Nola News of New Orleans and Athletic Publications of Minneapolis.

Other new legislation bans interstate operations in transporting gambling material—including numbers slips, travel for criminal purposes and carrying weapons interstate after conviction of a felony.

Wise requested the charges be separated, and the court granted the request. The prosecuting attorney filed a separate charge against Wise. The court appointed George H. Miller as his attorney.

James E. Durley was appointed attorney for Frank J. Lynch, charged with uttering a no account check.

David N. Miller, charged with uttering a no account check, appeared and pleaded not guilty.

investigation of the problem and recommend a correction. Councilman Jack Cunningham of the Fire and Water Committee, announced John Crook, 1020 East 17th, new fireman, had completed his trial period and recommended he be appointed as a permanent Class C fireman. The Council voted its approval. Cunningham requested bids be made on 1,000 feet of 1½ inch fire hose and explained funds for the hose had been included in the yearly budget. Approval was granted.

A letter of appreciation from the Goodwill Chapel Methodist Church was read to the council by Councilman Robert Bader, chairman of the Public Buildings and Grounds Committee. The letter thanked the City of Sedalia for returning a $100 check which they had sent the city for reimbursement of money that had been posted on property the city had planned to buy for a sanitary fill, but later rejected the purchase.

Councilman E. B. Smith, chairman of the Finance and Taxes committee, reported he had written Burns and McDonald Engineering Co. regarding the total costs for sewer planning for Sedalia and had not received a reply to his letter.

Smith reported the parking lot bonds which were to be recalled in connection with the issuance of new bonds had been posted with a local bond company and the bonds would be recalled on Aug. 1.

A resolution was passed authorizing the mayor to draw a check for $6,750 payable to Harold and Edwin M. McCubbin for 45 acres of land south of Sedalia to be used as a sanitary fill replacing the old fill located near Dresden.

The following officers' reports for the month of December were read and approved: Ralph Carrel, license inspector, collection of $9; Luther Wright, plumbing inspector, street cut fees $52.50; and plumbers' permits $60.50; L

Eva Nielsen Speaks At Group Meet

Eva Nielsen, exchange student from Bronnoysund, Norway, was the guest speaker at the meeting of Group 1, of the First Christian Church, Dec. 21, at the home of Mrs. P. Cecil Owen, 823 West Sixth.

Dressed in native costume of her country, she told of their Christmas and customs, stating that they do not have outside decorations as we do, but one week before Christmas the stores are decorated.

Eva told of her mother baking from 15 to 20 kinds of cookies starting about two weeks before Christmas, and they always disappear much sooner than she expected them to.

The Christmas in Norway, she said, is always a white one. They go to church on Christmas Eve, and before going they eat lutenfisk, which is fish, that doesn't contain any calories or vitamins. When they return home they have their traditional supper of spare ribs, sauerkraut and carmel pudding. Greeting and carol singing are exchanged with friends and neighbors.

Before going to bed a bowl of porridge is placed in the attic for Santa. Christmas day is a family day. It is spent in their own home or that of grandparents. There is a tree in one corner of a room which they haven't seen previously. Food on this day is blood pudding.

For the next two weeks they celebrate with many gatherings. Their trees aren't taken down until the end of the month at which time the fathers, sing and burn the trees.

The costume she wore was of green wool handmade and trimmed with beautiful embroidery. It had a full length skirt and vest. Under the vest is a lovely high neck, long full sleeved white blouse, a purse of matching material is tucked in the belt on the right side. Her off the face bonnet is of the same color under which was the rosy cheeks of Eva. Her pleasing manner complimented the native costume. The native dress is not worn all the time it is for special occasions, such as National Day, May 17, Easter, Christmas, weddings and funerals.

Eva, who is spending the year here, is staying in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Floyd Lively, and is a student at Smith-Cotton.

Mrs. Rolla Lopp presided at the meeting and introduced the speaker, her American mother, Mrs. Floyd Lively, her adopted grandmother, Mrs. George Lively, is a member of Group one.

Other guests were Mrs. Edith Stuart and Dora A. Gorrell, the mother of the hostess.

Mrs. Frank Hudson was assisting hostess with Mr. Owen.

Is History Repeating Itself?

An expression "history repeats itself" is not of 20th century vintage, students of history, even those in Smith-Cotton High school, will tell you.

The phrase is attributed to comment by a Greek historian and general, Thucydides, approximately 400 B.C.—and that's a long time ago. His comment in paraphrase went something like this: "... historical events as they really happen are likely, in accordance with human nature, to repeat themselves at some future time—if not exactly the same, yet very similar."

Let's read an excerpt from an editorial by John Knight, one of America's great editors, which illustrates in some measure current conditions in more countries than just the United States. The parallel has its limitations, of course, but nevertheless is apropos:

"The poorer citizens have captured the government and have voted the property of the rich into the coffers of the state for redistribution among the voters.

"Politicians have strained their ingenuity to discover new sources of public revenue. They have doubled the indirect taxes, such as customs due on imports and exports. They have broadened perilously the field of the income tax as well as the property tax.

"One of our wisest says, 'When I was a boy, wealth was regarded as secure and admirable—but now a man has to defend himself against being rich as if it were the worst of crimes'.

"Athletics has become professionalized: young citizens who once thronged the playgrounds or the gymnasium now exert themselves vicariously by witnessing professional exhibitions.

"Philosophy has struggled to find in civic loyalty or in a national ethic some substitute for the divine commandments and the surveillance of God."

This pronouncement was made in Athens, Greece about 400 B.C.

Author of the critique of his own times was the Greek philosopher, Socrates

Sounds familiar like history repeating itself, doesn't it?

Big Spy Story Behind Military Arrest

BY DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—The details have been suppressed regarding the case of Capt. Joseph Kauffman, the Air Force finance officer recently arrested for alleged espionage. When he goes on trial, however, the case will probably unfold as one of the major spy stories of the year.

The Air Force has evidence that one of Kauffman's close relatives is a Communist. There is also evidence that Kauffman arranged a 30-day leave in Germany and crossed into East Berlin in civilian clothes, in violation of an Air Force order, and with full knowledge that he would be picked up by the East Berlin police. An American military man in uniform has the right to enter East Berlin, but civilians are subject to cross-examination. For a military man to wear civilian clothes was an invitation to be arrested.

Kauffman was, when interrogated by an East German security officer he gave information regarding Air Force facilities in Greenland.

Later that same East German security officer defected to West Germany and told the story of what had happened.

Kauffman was arrested at Castle Air Force Base near Merced, Calif., and flown to Lindseigh Air Force Base near Wiesbaden, Germany, to face his accusers. The Air Force will prosecute vigorously.

Capital Chaff

Gullible Americans will spend one billion dollars on quack cures in 1962. One-third of it will be on phony vitamin pills... congressmen will stage a drive to increase their own salaries from $25,000 to $35,000 a year. They'll also raise their tax-free expense allotment from $2,250 to $5,000. No one who votes on this increase, however, can benefit from it until the next term... Pan American Airways means what it says about turning its airline over to the government if the airline pilots, now making $30,000 a year, go through with their strike... The medical researchers are about to unveil some new drugs called "energy enzymes" which some people will dub the "fountain of youth." The new drug won't actually restore youth but may slow down the aging process... Marcus Cohn set a milestone regarding radio press monopoly when the U.S. Court of Appeals recently found the Elyria-Lorain Broadcasting Company and the Lorain Journal guilty of antitrust violation for monopolizing both the press and the airwaves.

Guest Editorial

CAPE GIRARDEAU MISSOURIAN: Bang, Bang in Mexico—If a Mexican hisses at you, and accompanies the sound by a pushing gesture of the hand, he's not being offensive. In Mexico and elsewhere in Latin America "Past!" means Come here, please.

"Psst!" is much like our "His!" though it is used oftener, and the push-away hand gesture is the Latin style of beckoning.

Differences like these, which also embody similarities, are among the things that fascinate tourists in both countries. Take "Phooey," for example, which is an onomatopoeic version of a Bronx cheer. In Mexico it's "Fuchi!"

He sighed when he saw the pretty girl. A Mexican will tell you that he went "Uff!" Roosters who have learned English say "cock-a-doodle-do!" The ones that crow in Spanish say "qui-qui-ri!" (pronounced "kee-kee-ree!").

When a Mexican's tire blows out it says "pum!", and the Mexican (assuming that his remarks are printable) says "Ay, ay!" (This can be translated "Alas, alas!" but it has more in common with "Oy-yoi!")

So now you should be equipped for a visit to Mexico as long as you stick to onomatopoeia. You don't even need to be told the term for a couple of gunshots, which in Mexico is "Bang, bang!"

millan agreed to support the move. He even offered to turn over Christmas Island in the Pacific to the Americans for the tests. It's probable Kennedy will accept the Christmas Island site and that at least 20 explosions in the atmosphere will be set off this year.

Behind the Political Headlines

Gov. Nelson Rockefeller has taken elaborate polls to see whether his divorce will hurt his political career. He seems to think that he can run for Governor of New York again successfully... without the influence of his liberal wife, Rockefeller will become more conservative... If George Romney, dynamic head of American Motors, wins the Governorship of Michigan impressively, he is certain to become a candidate for the GOP Presidential nomination in 1964... President Kennedy will discourage his brother Ted from running against Congressman John McCormack's nephew Edward for the Senate. Instead Ted Kennedy will run for Governor.

The Kennedy-McCormack ticket in Massachusetts should be difficult to beat... In Pennsylvania, Mayor Richardson Dilworth of Philadelphia will thumb his nose at the Democratic Boss of Philadelphia, Phil Green, and run for Governor. Dilworth is one of the best of Philadelphia's mayors. The other A-1 mayor, Sen. Joe Clark, now running for re-election, will fill out an appealing Clark-Dilworth ticket for Senator and Governor... The Democrats will lose Ohio this year when Mike Di Salle bows out. GOP candidate James Rhodes will probably succeed him... Ike's former Secretary of the Interior Fred Seaton is likely to become next Governor of Nebraska. He'll defeat Democratic Gov. Frank Morrison... In Utah, look for young, popular Congressman David King, Democrat, to defeat Sen. Wallace Bennett, Republican. King's daddy was a Senator before him.

Aid To India?
Inside word is that Secretary of State Rusk has decided not to cut off American aid to India, even though he's indignant over the invasion of Goa.

The question of whether to continue American aid was seriously considered last week, and the decision was made to go ahead on the grounds that India's position in the Asian subcontinent is too important. Cutting off aid, it was decided, eventually would hurt the United States worse than the Indians.

However, the scheduled trip of Mrs. Jackie Kennedy to see the Nehru family is something else again. State Department officials are definitely opposed.

Ralph Bunche For Governor
New York politicians are intrigued over a trial balloon that Ralph Bunche, the Negro UN diplomat, might be picked by the Democrats to run against Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

Floating the trial balloon is Gore Vidal, the Broadway playwright, related by marriage to some of the Kennedy-in-laws and a close friend of JFK's. Whether or not he speaks for the White House remains to be seen.

The President is anxious to put a strong candidate in the race against Rockefeller, and in view of Rockefeller's divorce there is an off-chance of beating him. Whether Bunche could do it, however, is another matter. While he would run up a terrific vote among Negroes and intellectuals, he might have difficulty winning other segments of New York state's ramified electorate.

If nominated, Bunche would be the first Negro candidate for Governor of any state since reconstruction days after the Civil War.

Dieters' Lazy Susan

A government labor specialist says the changing nature of farming is making farmers into biochemists, machinists, electronic experts.

As an example of the refinement of farming techniques, there is now in use a circular device for feeding hens. As the thing revolves slowly, the hens have time for just a few quick stabs at the feed.

The theory of this eating-in-the-round: Shorten the feeding time, lengthen the egg-laying time.

Should millions of dieting Americans get wind of this, we could have a big call for revolving tables that do a gentle but steady turn. It's always hard to hit a moving target.

The World Today

Comparing JFK With Other Presidents

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—From now on, after a year in office, President Kennedy more and more will be compared in policies, performance and personality with men who had his job or have one like it.

Kennedy is more like former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan than any other world leader of recent times.

Haughty, stubborn French President Charles de Gaulle is a complete opposite. So is earthy, bouncy, extroverted Soviet Premier Khrushchev. So is former President Harry S. Truman.

Truman was more outwardly aggressive and the result was a lot of conflict—for instance, with Republicans and particularly Sens. Taft and McCarthy—which he seemed to enjoy.

Some of his conflicts might have been avoided with different tactics but this is not to say he was wrong, given the time and circumstances of his presidency.

The country will be forever grateful to him for his decisiveness in beginning foreign aid, his military alliances and stiff-arming the Russians.

In all these areas, and a dozen others, there was conflict of one kind or another.

Much of his willingness to accept it and chance his political future on it no doubt was in part a product of his early background in Missouri precinct politics.

He played politics the way it had been played for generations. But that way may not be seen again for some time if only because the circumstances of the presidency are different.

In the Truman years and all those that preceded it—before a trigger-pull on hydrogen missiles could devastate a continent—a president could afford to occupy himself more with domestic politics.

Some other possibilities may also explain the change which has taken place in the presidency as demonstrated by Kennedy and Eisenhower. For instance:

1. American politics may be entering a more sophisticated period when the traditional cat-and-dog fights between a president and Looking Backward...

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

The work of repairing a number of streets in the city of Sedalia is progressing splendidly, and Elmer Hermann, city engineer, reported four miles of eight-foot roadway have been completed. One and one-half mile has been graded and is ready to be rocked. There are 460 men employed on the street work. Many property owners are taking advantage of the opportunity to use the WPA workers and are ready to purchase materials needed for the street work.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Ennis Courtney has acquired the interest of his brother Hugh in the Courtney Shoe Company, 228 South Ohio avenue, and is now sole owner of the shoe store that has carried the name Courtney for nearly half a century.

his opposition look old fashioned and time-wasting.

But more than the Kennedy-Eisenhower presidencies will be needed to show whether this is the case.

2. It may be simply that Kennedy and Eisenhower either think it shrewder and in the long run more fruitful to compromise and avoid brawls or they just don't have the stomach for slam-bang fights.

To put it another way, it seems to be a necessary part of their nature to avoid embroilments. Eisenhower did that with Taft, McCarthy, and with everyone else when he could.

But then, of course, he didn't come up through the American political system, either. Even as a general he had made a reputation for avoiding open breaks and in getting opposing factions to work together.

This is how he operated with his Democratic opposition. It is clear, after a year in office, that Kennedy is following with his Republican opponents the same course Eisenhower pursued with the Democrats.

Even though this is a congressional election year and he wants more Democrats in the Capitol, an authoritative source at Palm Beach let it be known Kennedy is making a peace offering to Republicans before Congress opens for 1962. He won't do any heavy politicking.

Eisenhower went less than all-out on some of the programs he asked Congress to pass. Kennedy already has shown a great willingness to compromise.

Both men, like Macmillan of Britain, have shown an immense desire to avoid personal conflicts, which in a way is a good method of staying popular.

On the other hand: at a time when the Russians have weapons just as sudden and terrible as this country's, both Eisenhower and Kennedy must have felt the day-by-day American political slugging of the past is small potatoes compared with the greater conflict with communism.

The Mature Parent

Bridge to Understanding Is Two-Way Thoroughfare

By Mrs. Muriel Lawrence
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Dear Mrs. Lawrence:

What junk you write. That article about the girl who said "I don't feel like it" when her mother asked her to turn down the TV volume made me sick. That mother should have given her a good crack in the face instead of turning down the TV herself and saying, "I'll want to know why you wouldn't do what I asked when I've finished this phone call."

ANSWER: I have a little story I want to tell you.

I once knew a Miss F who ran a little book and stationery shop which supported her and her mother. One fall when she renewed her lease her landlord agreed to repaint it for her.

The painting job took two days. Anxious not to lose any business, Miss F worked until 3 a.m. on the first day, replacing stock on her shelves, removing plaster dust, polishing showcases. On the second night she worked until 10 o'clock. Then, dragging home her tired body and aching feet, she entered the living room where her parent said, "Mamie, go and make me a cup of tea."

Miss F, an obedient child did as she was told. But the next day when she couldn't locate a book I had ordered, she began to cry. "You must forgive me," she said. "Everything is still in a mess and I've been working late... and Mrs. Lawrence, my mother... she doesn't love me... last night when I got home so tired I could hardly walk she never noticed... she never saw. She just said, 'Go and get me...'"

Miss F had to see a doctor that afternoon.

You see, this grown child had a very reasonable reason for not feeling like obeying her mother's order to make her a cup of tea.

Sometimes younger children too have reasonable reasons for not jumping to our orders.

If we feel no interest in his reasons sooner or later he may know himself to be unloved. The question "Why didn't you do what I asked you to do?" is the bridge we make between us and a resisting child across which he can come over to us and tell us why he is worried, how he has been unwittingly hurt, what is troubling him so that he has been unable to serve us willingly.

Do you always feel like doing what you're told? Are there never times for you when you want someone to say, "Why didn't you do as I asked? Are you tired? What is wrong? Tell me."

Dear reader, the human heart is a lonely thing and cracks in the face are not generally the way to open it.

Democrat Pick-ups

By News Staff

THE LITTLE four-year-old girl looked at the man in the red suit and the white whiskers. He waved to her from the fire truck and she waved back. A little later she saw him on the street—not too close, but close enough for him to hear her say to her mother: "That's not really Santa Claus—that's my Daddy."

He hated to go home that night and hoped she would be asleep. But she wasn't. When he came in her mother was getting her ready for bed.

"That wasn't Santa Claus," she told him. "That was you, Daddy." But the fact that she recognized him didn't in the least lessen her belief in the real Santa. That just wasn't the real thing—it was her daddy.

The next morning she smiled up at him at the breakfast table.

"I was just foolin' last night," she told him. Then she added: "He sure had your eyes, Daddy, but his belly was bigger than yours."—H. L.

Everything's Dunky-Hory And Upfixed K.O. for 1962

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — The international situation is kinda upfixed here at the end of the year. So it behooves your faithful correspondent to straighten things a bit. The idea is to make everything dunky-hory so that you can get the new year properly inshowered, with everything in a state of complete fonsucion.

The trouble is there's so much troubleald going on the world in. It was big news, for instance, when Russia's Chairman Nikita Khrushchev admitted he could be wrong.

But he didn't say that he ever had been. So there's no change there.

The United Nations General Assembly ended one of its most successful sessions by admitting it would be $170 million in debt by next July 1. It then authorized Acting Secretary General U Thant of Burma to issue up to $200 million in bonds to cover the indebtedness.

This puts the U.N. definitely on a deficit finance basis, which is the way the United States has been run so successfully for the last 30 years, and there is nothing more to worry about there. The U.N. is now a going concern. Going broke, that is.

India's Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru—the man of peace and disarmament who must have a fresh rosebud in his tunic every day—came up smelling of something definitely not roses when he used force taking over three Portuguese enclaves.

This is the way he peacefully took over Kashmir when India and Pakistan got their independence in 1947.

But he says he will use force to keep Red China from taking over hunks of India on its northern frontier. In the jargon of the neutrals, this probably means that India will offer no more resistance than it did to the Red Chinese take-over of Tibet.

This may help clarify the definition of a neutralist:

A neutralist is one who is broadminded, tolerant, doesn't take sides and is peace-loving. He will, however, take money from anyone.

For example, consider the case of President Nasser of the now—since Syria disaffiliated and Nasser himself has disaffiliated Yemen—disunited Arab Republic. Nasser bought—on credit—a lot of Russian arms. He promised to pay for them in Egyptian cotton. But this year Egypt had a bad crop.

So Nasser now wants to "buy" American surplus cotton which he would then use to make a payment due on his arms debt. If he should get this cotton from the U.S., this country would then be paid back in Egyptian pounds, most of which would then be loaned back to the UAR for its internal development. Do you follow?

This deal probably won't be allowed to go through. But if it should, the question would be: "who is the more neutral, Nasser or the U.S.?" Does that make everything clear?

Other U.S. foreign relations are equally clear.

The North Atlantic Treaty Organization is firmly united and determined that it will stand together in support of the West Berliners against the East Germans and the Russians.

Except that France won't agree to negotiating with the Russians, and the other 14 NATO nations don't like the U.S. and U.N. policy on the Congo, disuniting the U.N.

The new Alliance for Progress with Latin America is coming along swimmingly, too. Only four countries have their development plans ready. But the United States is keeping its promise to allocate $1 billion in aid during the alliance's first year. Think what the total will be when they all get plans.

The one Latin American country that won't get any aid will be Castro's Cuba. But don't be too sure that Cuba will be kicked out of the Organization of American States when the foreign ministers meet at Punta del Este, Uruguay, Jan. 22.

Castro was a declared neutral up to a couple of weeks ago, when he admitted he had been a Commie all along. He achieved one distinction by this declaration. It made him the only member of the club to show openly what a neutral really is.

There. That should confuse everything. Happy 1962.

The Doctor's Mailbag

Strange Reactions Result From Use of Tranquilizers

By Harold Thomas Hyman, M.D.

Q — I am an unmarried woman of 35. I work in a small office with six other typists and we are all on terms of great intimacy. A few months ago, I was very nervous and upset following the death of my mother with whom I lived. I was given a tranquilizer that I've been taking regularly ever since.

About a month ago my breasts began to swell and secrete milk. The other girls in the office noticed my condition and, as I have since learned, were sure that I must be pregnant. You can't imagine how I felt at such an injustice.

Finally I went to my doctor and asked for a complete examination. He assured me that there was no possibility of a pregnancy but suggested that the milk secretion might be due to the tranquilizer. He said I should stop taking it but I'm in such a state because of the unfairness of those I thought were my friends that I don't think I can get along without it. What shall I do?

A — Your doctor was probably quite right. A report from a group of Baltimore physicians states that 26 of a group of 100 females had just such an experience as you had. Indeed, to make matters even more embarrassing, one of the milk-secreting women also had a false-positive pregnancy test.

You'd better stop taking your tranquilizer and, if you explain the circumstances to your fellow workers, I'm sure they'll see to it that your ruffled feathers are smoothed over.

Q — I've had a sinus infection for more than 14 years. Every time the weather changes I'm so miserable I have to lie down and keep a hot water bottle on my face as soon as I get home from work. I have a good job and would hate to try another climate as one doctor suggested.

I finally consulted a specialist who wants to do a submucous one doctor suggested.

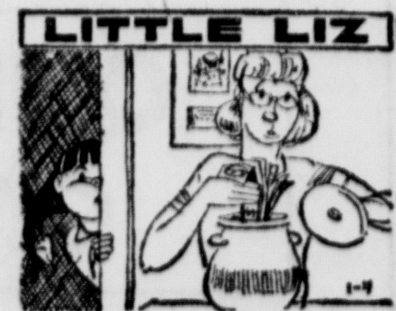

I finally consulted a specialist who wants to do a submucous resection in my nose. But my brother-in-law, who is a doctor, advises against nose operations because he says that, in his experience, they do more harm than good. What is your opinion?

A — You place me in a difficult position since I am forced to give a qualified opinion. I agree with your brother-in-law that many intranasal operations for the relief of sinus infection either accomplish nothing beneficial or leave the patient worse off. But, in most of these instances, you may be reasonably sure that the procedure was either ill-advised or incompetently performed.

On the other hand, if an intranasal operation is clearly indicated and competently performed, the results may be rated satisfactory and even spectacular.

For example, if the partition (septum) that separates your nasal cavities is crooked or has a spur that closes off the opening through which a sinus drains, an operation to straighten the septum and/or remove the spur (submucous resection) may actually cure a sinus infection.

Now, if your brother-in-law is not a nose and throat specialist, he may not be in a position to judge the suggested procedure. To satisfy him and yourself, why don't you ask him to visit the specialist with you and reserve judgment until he hears what his colleague has to say?

At Least 16 Rebels Still On the Loose

LISBON (AP)—At least 16 rebels who took part in the abortive revolt against Premier Antonio Salazar's regime remained at large today as the government pressed a hunt for them.

Authorities claimed only about 40 men took part in the attempt to seize the army garrison at Beja early Monday. Officials clamped tight security measures on known avenues of escape along the Spanish frontier in efforts to round up remnants of the gang. All police and military units remained in a "state of precaution."

The government said two insurgents were killed and 22 captured—including the two leaders of the band—in the uprising which collapsed after a three-hour gun battle with troops of the 3rd Infantry Regiment stationed in the Beja barracks.

Thousands of persons lined a 75-mile funeral route Tuesday as a cortege bearing the body of Lt. Col. Jaime Filipe da Fonseca, the army undersecretary, moved from Lisbon to Fonseca's home town of Leiria for burial.

Fonseca rushed to Beja after hearing of the revolt and was shot when he walked into the barracks and demanded that the rebels surrender.

Authorities said the captured conspirators would face prison terms of from 4 to 20 years if convicted, in addition to the loss of political rights and indefinite security surveillance.

One of the captured leaders, Capt. Joao Maria Paulo Varela Gomes, was reported near death after undergoing three operations and removal of a kidney. The government said the other rebel leader, Manuel Serra, was captured heading for the Spanish border.

Both had long opposed the 30-year-old Salazar dictatorship. Serra recently returned from Brazil and a self-imposed exile stemming from a 1959 anti-Salazar plot.

In Sao Paulo, Brazil, Capt. Henrique Galvao, the Portuguese rebel leader, declared that the unsuccessful Beja revolt was "a victory although not a decisive one."

Galvao led the band that captured the Portuguese liner Santa Maria last January.

He said the Beja incident was "the logical sequence of the revolutionary process for freedom."

"Nothing will deter the development of this process," he vowed.

Parking Fine Is Paid For With $15 In Pennies

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—The fine for parking his car in a no-parking zone came to $15, the police clerk told Michael Munjak Tuesday.

Munjak, 18, nodded, then plumped a plastic bag filled with pennies down on the desk. It weighed 9½ pounds.

James Sileman, the clerk, eyed Munjak carefully.

"It's all the available cash I have," he said.

Munjak and his brother, John, 15, had been saving pennies for years.

He and a companion counted out the $15. It took them an hour and 45 minutes.

Recounting the pennies later, Sileman found the amount three cents short.

He furnished two and another police clerk supplied the other.

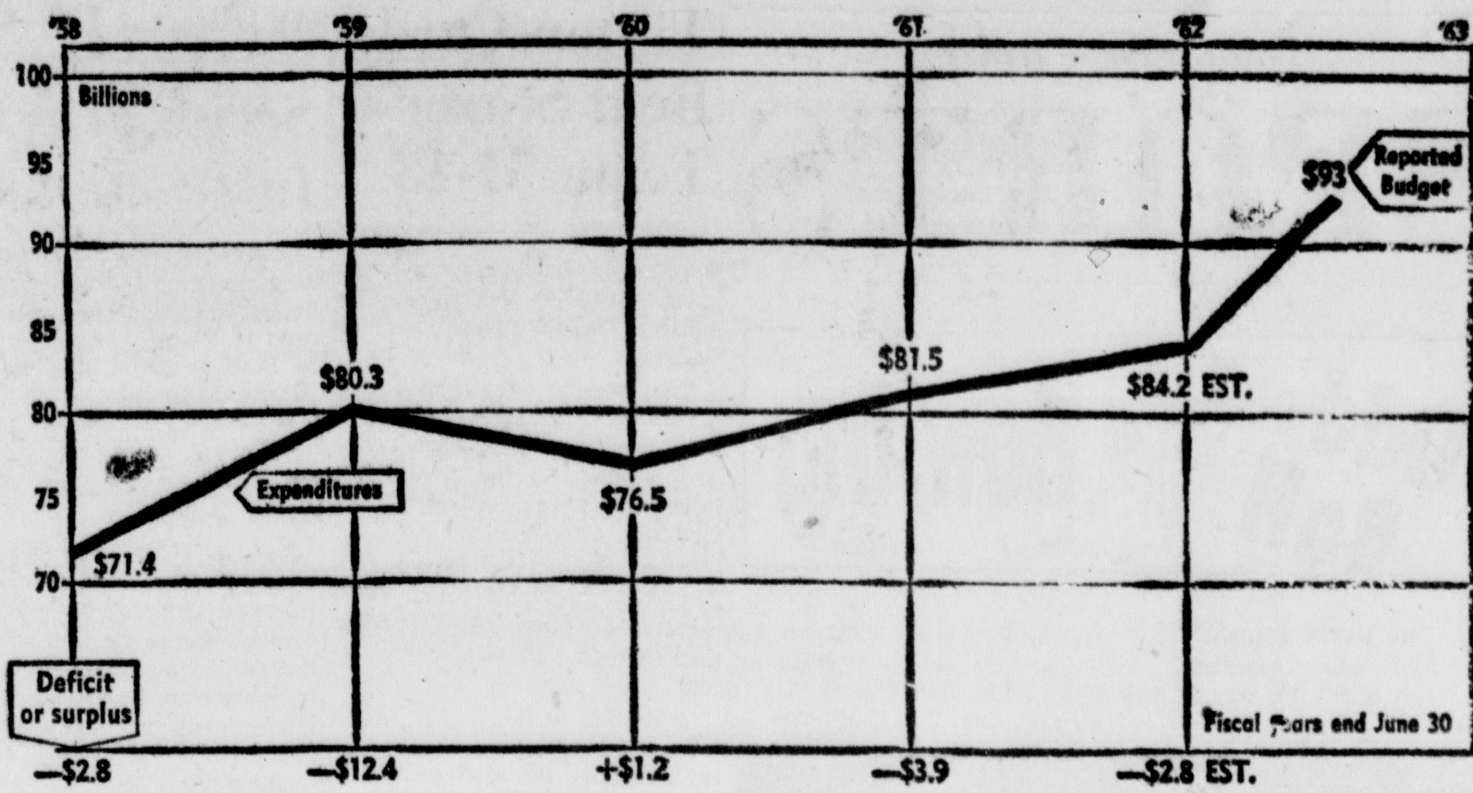

Charges Dismissed Against a Teamster

OLATHE, Kan. (AP)—A charge of burglary and another of grand larceny were dropped Tuesday against a former Springfield, Mo. Teamsters official.

Two other cases against the defendant, Branch Milton (Tony) Wainwright, were continued.

Wainwright had been charged in the theft of a $650 refrigerator-freezer from a house in Overland Park, Kan.

The dismissals were asked by Johnson County Attorney Hugh Kreamer.

U.S. SPENDING CREEPS UPWARD—Newschart illustrates how federal government expenditures have leaped upward during the last five years—some $20 billion plus. Spending in 1958 totaled $71.4 billion; for 1963 fiscal year starting in June President Kennedy reportedly will seek a $93 billion budget. Only in 1960 did receipts exceed expenditures when the government wound up $1.2 billion in the black. Only two other budgets in U.S. history have exceeded $93 billion; they were the World War II years: 1944, $95 billion and 1945 when the total costs soared to $98.4 billion.

Plant Antibiotic, Romance Among Cockroaches Studied

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

An antibiotic for plants, how a cockroach finds a mate in the dark, and frisky snowfleas are topics of scientific studies:

For Sickly Plants

Before long, farmers and fruit growers may be able to give sickly trees and plants an assist with a dose of a new wonder drug, an antibiotic for plants, now being perfected by British scientists.

From a patient screening of 8,000 soil samples, they turned up venturicidin which, if present tests prove out, will be produced as an agricultural spray. Venturicidin is an antifungal, although not an antibacterial, and seems to be harmless to animals.

So far, the scientists reported

Mrs. W. A. Green's Circle Has Party

Mrs. W. A. Green's Circle of Epworth Methodist Church, met Sunday in the church dining room with 20 members and five visitors, Mrs. Ruth Jackson, Ira Bronson, Fred Meyer, B. A. Hardin and Rev. Trevathan, present.

The meeting opened with the hymn "Joy to the World," and the circles motto in unison. The devotional was given by Mrs. Bell Heckenliab and Mrs. Orpha Wheeler. Mrs. Wheeler gave a prayer and Mrs. Heckenliab read the second chapter of Luke. Mrs. Wheeler also read a lesson from the book "The Household of God." Silent prayer was offered closing with a prayer by Mrs. Virginia Schlobohm.

Christmas cards were signed and sent to the men and women living at the Buena Vista Home. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Pearl Coffman and Mrs. Minnie Harrington.

The tables were decorated with candles and evergreen sprays. Just before the meeting adjourned each member received a gift from their secret pal and a number of cards from their circle member friends.

The next meeting will be Jan. 9 at which time Mrs. Ira Bronson and Mrs. Flora Holt will be the hostesses.

Cockroach Romance

A Harvard biologist has found out how cockroaches find a mate, in the dark.

When Dr. Robert Barth removed a pair of glands, called the corpora allata, from the necks of female cockroaches, the males ignored them. The glands, he explained, normally produce a hormone which triggers production of a chemical considered very agreeable by the male. When Dr. Barth replanted new glands in the females, they mated and produced normal eggs.

The female's odor, different for each species of cockroach, will attract nearby males. This is quite unlike the attractiveness of the odors given off by some other insects. Female moths, for example, release an odor which will beckon males from many hundreds of yards away, he said.

Snowflea Frolic

Don't tell the dog, but there's a hardy little gray-white insect called a snowflea that thrives in sub-zero temperatures and hops with the best of them, although without accuracy.

Actually, snowflea won't bother animals, but it can be a pest by invading cold-water pipes in houses and sometimes find its way into refrigerators. But, the National Pest Control Association reports, such invasions are infrequent and can be controlled by exterminators.

Snowfleas are a type of spring-tail, that is, insects possessing a

Broadway PTA Holds Christmas Program

The Broadway PTA held its December meeting in the school auditorium with the president, Mrs. Sanford, presiding.

Mrs. Sanford presented the music teacher, Miss Florence Hert, who presented the Christmas Story in music. The first part of the program consisted of a medley of Christmas music by the school orchestra. This was followed by a number of Christmas songs by the two first grade rooms. Then the chorus made up of members of the fifth, sixth and seventh grades, presented the Christmas Story with Jessica Brown serving as narrator for the story. Kristy Blum served as Mary with David Rohrbach taking the part of Joseph. The part of three kings was taken by Donnie Sparks, Larry Jacobi and Lloyd Knox. Mike Sanford, Jack Vaughn and Doug Brown were the Shepherds, while the part of the wise men was taken by Danny Eckles, Leland Sellers and James Wright.

Mrs. Schrader served as accompanist for the program. The members of the chorus and orchestra presented corsages to Mrs. Schrader and Miss Hert, and also presented an additional gift to their music teacher, Miss Hert.

Villanova' Cats
Against Pirates

By JIM HACKLEMAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

Villanova's Wildcats go after their 12th straight victory tonight against another unbeaten team. But the opposition isn't likely to provide a major test despite its spotless record.

The Wildcats play Seton Hall at the Villanova Field House. From past performances, Jack Kraft's hustling 'Cats should scuttle the Pirates. While Villanova has been beating some big boys and zooming into No. 5 position in the national rankings, Seton Hall has been building its record against lesser lights.

Seton Hall, in the midst of demerolism after being hurt by last year's point-fixing scandals, are playing a schedule roughly half major, half minor. So far they have beaten Southern Illinois, Fairleigh Dickinson, Wagner and Rider.

Building around the quick, high-scoring Hubie White and sophomore Wally Jones and George Lettich, Kraft has put together a spirited club stressing speed and aggressiveness. After winning their first eight, the 'Cats really dashed into the spotlight by clipping Niagara, previously unbeaten Duquesne and Iowa in the Quaker City tournament.

Kentucky, third ranked nationally and the only member of the top ten in action last night, took a 19-point lead against Virginia in the opening half and whipped the Cavaliers 93-73. Adolph Rupp played 15 Kentuckians and 12 of them scored, with Larry Pursifull's 21 points high. Cotton Nash added 18 for the Wildcats and Scottie Baessler had 17.

Indiana tied its team scoring record and scored a new high against a Notre Dame squad, pounding the Irish 122-95.

In the last-minute hero department — Jerry Smith's three-point play with 37 seconds to go gave Furman a 77-76 Southern Conference squeaker over William and Mary; Bill Kirvan's three points in the final 56 seconds of overtime provided the clincher as Navy edged Georgia Tech 64-62; with 11 seconds left, Bob O'Billovich stole the ball at midcourt and raced in for a layup that enabled Montana to top Idaho 63-61; Tennessee State made up a 17-point deficit in the final 12 minutes of regulation play, drawing even on Porter Meriwether's 30-footer seven seconds before the buzzer, then trimmed Seattle in overtime 101-97.

Wake Forest broke open a tight one in the second half and downed Minnesota 79-70. Davidson surprised Alabama for the second time in two weeks, 73-67. Vanderbilt made good on 23 of 26 free throws in the last half in beating Yale 79-69. Butler maintained its perfect record against Ivy League, defeated Princeton 63-58. Maine upset Connecticut 73-68 in the Yankee conference.

Other results—Auburn 67, Chattanooga 47; Memphis State 85, New Mexico State 70; Mississippi 68, Florence, Ala., 64; Tennessee Tech 86, Mississippi Southern 68; Creighton 84, South Dakota 58; Texas Western 82, New Mexico Western 54.

Pittsburgh Rens
Win In Honolulu

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Pittsburgh Rens, who have been in, out and tied for the lead in the Eastern Division of the American Basketball League, are in again.

They regained sole possession of first place with a victory Tuesday night over the Hawaii Chiefs at Honolulu 98-92. The triumph put the Rens half a game ahead of the idle Cleveland Pipers.

The Los Angeles Jets defeated the New York Tapers 112-104 at Los Angeles in the other scheduled league game. The defeat dropped the Tapers, who shifted their franchise from Washington on Sunday, to last place in the Eastern Division.

Sweeps Both
First Place,
Runner-up

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Sandy Stephens of Minnesota swept both first place and runner-up spot for outstanding one-game performances in the annual Associated Press year-end football poll today.

The All-America quarterback topped the balloting with 21 votes for his brilliant play against Michigan, and received 11 votes for his starring role against Michigan State. Stephens also was cited for his work against Illinois and Iowa.

Performances by Jim Saxton of Texas, Gale Weidner of Colorado and Curtis McClinton of Kansas drew nine votes each for third in the poll. Mel Renfro of Oregon and Roman Gabriel of North Carolina State turned in standout jobs that received seven votes each and Pete Pedro of West Texas State got six for his run-away against Texas Western.

Against Michigan, Stephens led Minnesota to a come-from-behind 23-20 victory as he gained over 300 yards running and passing. He scored once on a 63-yard sprint, passed for another touchdown, threw for a pair of two-point conversions and made an interception on his own two in the final seconds. The following week the multiple-talented 212-pounder directed the Gophers to a 13-0 victory over nationally top-ranked Michigan State, contributing a scoring pass and an interception to Minnesota's triumph.

Saxton's 79-yard scoring sprint and 173 yards rushing in Texas' 27-0 decision over Southern Methodist gained nine votes for the spindly halfback. Weidner was picked for his dramatic performance against Kansas, when he threw three touchdown passes in the final quarter as Colorado roared from behind for a 20-19 victory. McClinton's four-touchdown spree against California got him a top spot.

Renfro got his support for the contributions he made as Oregon beat Stanford 19-7. Coming back after five weeks out with an injured foot and playing only 10 minutes, he scored on a five-yard run, triggered a 39-yard touchdown pass play and returned a kickoff 94 yards for Oregon's third TD.

Gabriel was named for the dazzling show he put on against South Carolina, passing for two touchdowns and running for two more and a two-point conversion in a 38-14 North Carolina State romp. Pedro made the list with an explosive night — six touchdowns and 236 yards as West Texas trounced Texas Western 56-27.

All told, 43 players were selected for 57 performances. Stephens, of course, led the field in votes and with his four-game citations. Bob Ferguson of Ohio State was named for three games, while the following were mentioned for two games — Saxton, Pedro, Ernie Davis of Syracuse, George Saines of Michigan State, Eddie Wilson of Arizona, Ron Miller of Wisconsin, Dave Hoppmann of Iowa State, Wendell Harris of Louisiana State and Jim Bakken of Wisconsin.

Kentucky Looking For a Grid Coach

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Kentucky began looking for a football coach today after the university's athletic board fired Blanton Collier, the softspoken coach who replaced Paul (Bear) Bryant.

The board voted Tuesday to buy the remaining three years of Collier's contract, saying its decision was by "mutual agreement" with Collier. His salary was reported at $17,500 annually.

The board only five weeks ago gave Collier a vote of confidence. Collier, 55, who came to Kentucky in 1954 and compiled a 41-36-3 record, said he had no immediate plans for the future.

Bryant, who came to Kentucky in 1946, pulled the Wildcats out of the football doldrums and led them to three major bowls—the Orange, Sugar and Cotton—in successive years. He left in 1953 to take the head coaching job at Texas A&M and now is at Alabama.

The Wildcats were 5-5 last season.

I must employ a rather odd-ball method of getting more kick into my delivery — literally.

I lack the power and strength to roll a fast ball the way most bowlers do. To overcome this, I

I give a real big kick with my right foot at the foul line, on the release.

With my size, I find it pays to be a kicker in bowling.

Small Crowd
Sees Benefit
Matches Tues.

Attendance at the Pettis County Post No. 16, American Legion, benefit wrestling matches Tuesday night was considered only fair. The matches were held for the benefit of the Crippled Children's Center with funds obtained through the semi-monthly show to be presented to the Center.

Although the attendance was rather "slim" the wrestlers provided better than three hours of rough and tumbling wrestling entertainment.

The feature event saw two women wrestlers teamed with two midgets in one of the most exciting team matches seen in the local ring of late. Millie Stafford teamed with Cowboy Bradley while Jessica Rogers had Tiny Roe as her mate in the three-fall event.

Roe won the first fall over Bradley after 12 minutes and 18 seconds after he bounced the Cowboy off the ropes and applied a body press. The second fall was won by Bradley who applied a jackknife on his tiny opponent after seven minutes and five seconds.

The third fall saw Stafford body slam Rogers, followed by a series of foot rolls and a press to win after eight minutes and 35 seconds.

In a feature opening Bradley won over Roe in 10 minutes and 42 seconds using a double leg roll and press.

In a special event, "Tarzan" Tyler beat Guy La Rosa, in 18 minutes and 47 seconds of the 20-minute time limit match. Tyler body slammed La Rosa several times followed by a back breaker and rolled into a turn buckle press.

The one-fall 60-minute time limit semi-feature between Lee "Bulldog" Henning and Karl Von Schober went to Henning. Schober won the first fall in six minutes and 20 seconds with a head scissors and press. The second fall to Henning in three minutes and 28 seconds with a leg lock; and Henning took the third fall in three minutes and 25 seconds with a back breaker, several knee drops and a body press.

Tipton Cards
Beat Stover
Team 51-43

The Stover Bulldogs dropped a hard-fought Tri-County conference game, 51-43, to the Tipton Cardinals, Tuesday night, at Versailles.

The scoring went back and forth, the Cardinals taking the first quarter, the Bulldogs taking the second. As the final score proves, this was certainly a nip-and-tuck game.

Barry DeLong led Stover scoring with 13 points. High point honors were shared by Neimeyer and Howard with 13 each for Tipton.

According to the Stover coach, both teams played a rough game which caused the score to be lower than usual. Neither played good ball.

In the "B" game Stover squeaked past Tipton by one point to leave victorious. The final score was 44-43.

Jim Cooper was high for the Bulldogs with ten points. Lubbert took top honors for the Cardinals, also scoring ten.

Stover is matched against Eldon in a conference game at Stover Friday night.

Score by Quarters
Tipton 10 12 11 18-51
Stover 7 17 8 11-43

Individual scoring: Tipton — Albin, 12; Carter, 2; Edwards, 3; Baker, 5; Hall, 3; Stover — Nolting, 4; Uptegrove, 6; Downing, 9; Goetz, 1; Shackelford, 10.

Tigers Top
Eugene Team

It was Versailles all the way as the Tigers floored Eugene in a non-conference tilt Tuesday evening at Versailles.

The Tigers got off to a very good start, scoring 23 big points in the first quarter while Eugene scored only nine. Versailles repeated the performance in the second, again scoring 23. It was noted that a drop in scoring put both teams on almost equal ground, there being only one point difference in the scoring in the third quarter.

Darrell McMillin took top honors for Versailles with 23 points. Clarkson was high for Eugene with 17.

In "B" action the Tigers squeezed past Eugene on two points to draw a win, 32-30.

Brown and Hutchison were high pointers for Versailles with nine each. Gangwish took the honors for Eugene with ten.

Versailles will meet the California Pintos in what is expected to be an exciting game Friday at California. This is a game in the Tri-County Conference.

At Hillcrest Lanes

Series of 5 Free Bowling
Instructions To Be Given

A series of five free bowling lessons are being offered to the public by Hillcrest Lanes beginning Jan. 15 during a national Learn to Bowl program prepared by Brunswick Corporation.

The five-week instruction period will be the biggest mass education program in bowling and all sports history.

Special classes have been planned for seniors, men, women, and teenagers with each series of classes offering personal instruction for beginners. All necessary equipment will be available at the bowling center. The Brunswick program, prepared by the leading manufacturer of bowling equipment, sums up the best advice of the firm's 115-person advisory staff of champions.

"We have given a number of special instructional clinics," Don Anderson and Ken Buchholz said, "but this series of classes is something entirely new to bowling." "We feel it is much more valuable than the single period of instruction because it is hard to retain all the tips presented at one time. By breaking down bowling instruction into basic steps and giving people an opportunity to develop each skill before proceeding to the next, we can build bowlers who will compete well in regular leagues," they said.

The five lessons cover:

1. Etiquette on the lanes. The psychological approach to bowling. Principals of the game. The ball, grip, and release.
2. The approach. Spot bowling. Pin bowling. Scoring.
3. Arm-swing coordinated with footwork. The follow-through.
4. The hook ball. The straight ball. How to bowl strikes. How to make spares.
5. Summary of lessons and how to continue improving.

All free classes at Hillcrest Lanes in Sedalia will begin the week of Jan. 15. Women will be instructed on Mondays at 2 p.m. Junior classes will be held Tuesdays at 4 p.m. Instruction for men is scheduled for Thursdays at 2 p.m. Senior bowlers—both men and women—will receive special instruction on Wednesdays at 2 p.m.

Each class will last about an hour and will include a free line of bowling to enable beginners to put the instruction into practice. Registration for classes can be made by calling TA 6-9600 before Jan. 15.

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: Will you please tell me why men who eat alone in restaurants are usually unpleasant, humorless, chronic complainers and abusive to waitresses?

I've been a waitress for 11 years and have discussed this with girls who have been in the work longer than I. They agree that the guy who wanders in alone, night after night is the one they hope will sit at somebody else's station.

Does eating alone make nice, sweet guys mean or what?—HOT COFFEE.

Dear Coffee: It's the other way around. They're not mean because they're alone—they're alone because they're mean.

The man who dines alone after night is generally anti-social. Usually he is unattracted because his personality defects makes marriage extremely difficult or impossible.

The sourpuss is unpleasant and

Jim Durantes Finally Sell Second House

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Notes and comment on the Hollywood scene:

The James Durantes will no longer be a two-house family. Jimmy is solving the "dilemma" that has existed since he married Margie Little a year ago. She had a hilltop house and he had one on the flat, and neither wanted to give theirs up. So they lived in both.

"We're puttin' one of dem up for sale," Jimmy said. "Which one? Margie's, of course. After all, I am still boss of de family—at least I was when I checked two days ago."

From now on Tony Curtis works only for himself—either, in his own productions or partnership deals. He learned his lesson with "The Lady L", which tied him up for months and was never made by MGM.

"Complete chaos," he says of the experience. Chaotic or not, he got paid a nice $300,000 for his trouble.

Comings and goings: Debbie Reynolds to New York for confabs on her dress business. Van Heflin to the East for an NBC special about Highway 1, then to the Philippines for a movie. George Gobel home from the Broadway flop of "Let It Ride." He dropped a bundle but needn't worry; he'll probably be back on TV next season.

Catching up on the year-end attractions: "The Innocents" is a good chiller, excellently acted by a British cast and directed by Jack Clayton with a keen eye for scare tactics. The timing may be bad for this attraction, following so soon after the memorable Ingrid Bergman TV version of the same yarn. "Turn of the Screw." Charles Heston is looking for another modern movie; he's not ready to get back in tunics yet.

Managing Editor Of P-D Retires; Successor Named

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The retirement of Raymond L. Crowley as managing editor of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch and appointment of Arthur R. Bertelson as his successor were announced today by editor Joseph Pulitzer Jr.

Crowley has been on the Post staff since 1922 and managing editor since 1951. He joined the paper as a copy editor after seven years in the news department of the Minneapolis Journal.

He was named assistant city editor in 1924 and city editor in 1938.

Bertelson, 54, is a native of Louisville, Ky. He entered the newspaper business as a sports writer for the Louisville Herald Post in 1933, later was on the Chattanooga, Tenn., Times and came to St. Louis on the old Star-Times in 1937.

In 1940 he joined the Post-Dispatch as copy editor.

Bertelson's assignments on the Post have included telegraph editor, makeup editor, picture editor and news editor. He was assistant managing editor for one year prior to being promoted.

humorless because he is unhappy. A little kindness and warmth could go a long way toward thawing him out. Try it.

Dear Ann: My husband's mother is trying to get a divorce after 27 years of marriage. We don't know the details but we think she has another man. She has a good job and is quite youthful looking. We both like her and have never meddled into the whys and wherefores of her marital problems.

Three weeks ago she moved in with us. We are both fond of my father-in-law and although nothing has been said, we think he may be getting a raw deal.

Under the circumstances I don't believe my mother-in-law should be living with us. It may appear as though we are taking her side and we wish to remain neutral. Your opinion is wanted.—UNEASY.

Dear Uneasy: I agree that your mother-in-law should make her headquarters elsewhere since living with you suggests approval of what she is doing. Offer to help her find another place at once.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a senior in high school. There are four able-bodied kids in the family besides myself. I'm the oldest, then there are two girls, 16 and 15, and two boys, 13 and 10.

We have a lovely home with nice furniture. Mom is a good housekeeper and we have a cleaning lady twice a week. It seems as if I spend my whole life picking up after everyone.

If the other kids get home before I do, they tear things up something awful. Sometimes when I bring a girlfriend home from school the house is a disgrace. I've been embarrassed so many times that I hesitate to bring anyone home any more.

I wish I knew what to do about this. Must I wait until I'm married and have a home of my own before I can have things neat?—Mazie.

Dear Mazie: Do your friends come to your home to enjoy your company or are they spies for the sanitation bureau?

If your mom is a good housekeeper and she has a cleaning lady twice a week the place can't be as bad as you seem to think.

Have a pow-wow with the other kids. Ask them to help keep the house straight—not because home should be a showcase for visitors, but because an orderly home is nicer for everyone who lives in it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Officials Label Dutch Statement As Forward Step

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials described as a step forward the announcement by the Netherlands government today that it is willing to discuss the future of West New Guinea without insisting on prior conditions.

They expressed confidence that both the Indonesian and Dutch governments will maintain flexibility to permit settlement of the dispute without resort to force.

West New Guinea is all that remains to the Dutch of their once vast East Indies colonial empire. Indonesia, which won independence after World War II, is claiming it and has threatened to use force to take it.

The United States has worked to bring both sides together in an effort to find a mutually acceptable solution.

Peep In Hazy Crystal Ball Promises Surprises In '62

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Wat kind of year will 1962 be?

A look in the murky crystal ball discloses it will be one of the more memorable years of modern times, a mixture of national prosperity and international puzzle.

According to our annual fuzzy forecast, the American common man will earn more money than he ever did before in his life—and still be unable to understand where it all went.

He will eat both the cake of plenty and the bread of crisis, as the Russians find new strings of discord and unrest to strum.

Most people will be living more, but maybe wondering whether they are enjoying it less. Yet everybody—everybody except wives reaching 40—will find something to be cheerful about during 1962.

Here are a few fanciful predictions that may come true during the present year:

On the international front: Following President's Kennedy's advice on personal physical fitness programs, Premier Khrushchev will take a special correspondence course in muscle-building.

The United States will shoot a man into orbit, and the Russians will immediately orbit a beautiful female spy to keep an eye on him.

The Congolese will organize their own version of the "Peace Corps," and send their first trainees over here to help rescue Americans stranded in traffic jams.

The United Nations will seek to solve its financial woes by having itself listed on the stock exchange of New York, London, Paris, Rome, Bonn, and Tokyo. Shares will also be sold secretly to the Russian public by stock and bond salesmen parachuted into Siberia by the Allies.

On the domestic political front: John F. Kennedy Jr., will grow some more baby teeth.

His father will ask Congress to put some more adult teeth in the present income tax laws, and everyone on an expense account will go into mourning.

A Harvard professor will decline a federal government appointment, claiming he prefers to teach. After being cleared of any taint of subversion by a joint faculty-congressional committee, Sen. Barry Goldwater will offer him a post on his staff.

Brightens England

LONDON (AP)—Winter sunshine intermittently brightened parts of Southern England today, but most of the British Isles still lay in the grip of a New Year deep freeze.

The temperature was 33 in London after a low of 19 above. But another drop, accompanied by fog, was forecast for tonight. Despite all-night work by rail gangs, many trains were still frozen to the tracks in the yards under a coating of four inches of ice.

friends will offer a $25,000 reward for any ghost writer who can come up with a Republican vote-getting slogan better than "New Deal," "Fair Deal," or "New Frontier."

All in all, 1962 promises to be an interesting and surprising year. If you don't enjoy it, it'll be your own fault.

Some 400 Under Arrest After Armed Uprising

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—About 400 persons were reported under arrest today following the unsuccessful uprising by a right-wing extremist group seeking to push Lebanon into a bloc with other Arab nations.

Large stores of arms were also seized Monday in raids on villages where the Popular Social party (PPS) maintained strongholds. The party wants Iraq, Syria, Lebanon, Jordan, Palestine and Cyprus joined under one Arab flag but strongly opposes U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser's pan-Arab movement led from Cairo.

Premier Rashid Karami's Cabinet dissolved the PPS and announced restrictions on political parties, the press and foreigners.

Florida Capitalizes On Northern Snows

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. — Florida aims to capitalize on northern snowstorms to boost tourist business.

The State Development Commission said it has made arrangements for 400 billboard-size posters to be erected in key Northern cities immediately after a heavy snowfall.

The posters are planned for such cities as New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston, Cleveland, Detroit, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Washington and St. Paul.

OUT OUR WAY

BY J. R. WILLIAMS

Canadians Are In Business Of Atomic Devices

OTTAWA, (AP) — The Canadian government is in the business of making atomic machines — and business is good.

Forty salesmen seek markets for the Commercial Products Division of Atomic Energy of Canada, Ltd., owned by the people. Products are sold in 57 countries. Export sales this fiscal year are expected to exceed $4 million.

The main revenue producer is the cobalt-60 beam therapy unit, a machine developed in Canada in 1951 to treat cancer patients. Canada at one time had the world market to itself for these machines. It now competes with 30 producers, mainly in the United States, Britain, Italy, Japan and West Germany.

Since its establishment in 1952, the division has sold 258 therapy units in 39 countries. The United States has been the best customer, taking 92 machines. The mainland Chinese have bought seven, the Soviet Union two and Czechoslovakia, East Germany and Poland one apiece.

Equipment for subjecting materials to gamma radiation also is sold, along with isotopes used in industry, medicine, agriculture and research.

The Business World

All Eyes On Washington As Kennedy Prepares Message

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Businessmen and bankers will have their eyes on Washington for the next two weeks. So will labor and investors and taxpayers. And so, too, should consumers. All will have a great deal at stake.

For the fiscal and economic program which President Kennedy is expected to reveal shortly in general terms in his State of the Union message, and in detail in the budget message to follow, will have broad-and-butter significance for almost everyone.

Soon we'll be told how much the government will spend, and for what; how much it expects to take in through taxes, and what tax changes if any; how it expects to finance any borrowing the Treasury must make to keep it till safely filled.

All of these will have effects sooner or later, to greater or lesser degree, on new orders for many industries, sales and profits records, jobs and work weeks, interest rates on savings and mortgages on loans and on short term and long-term securities, and in time on prices and wages.

The economy is too big now for the federal budget to make it or wreck it. But industrial and financial trends are definitely affected by government policies. And the effects of government policies are more noticeable when the economy itself is in fairly close balance—definitely not declining, but not advancing in anything resembling a sure-fire boom.

Many businessmen believe that the current moderate upturn in the economy is due to forces generated within the economy itself, with a big assist by fairly steady consumer spending.

Administration economists, however, think that a lot of the zip today is due to a needed extra nudge which extra federal spending gave. The defense outlays were raised by $6 billion. And as orders arising from this reached defense firms and were spread through their supplies, it helped not only industry but made more jobs, or longer work weeks, for many workers. And their large paychecks helped push consumer sales to record highs before Christmas.

The U.S. Treasury also hopes to benefit. The added earnings of industry and larger incomes of individuals are expected to raise its take through income taxes in the coming fiscal year.

It is on this anticipation that the Budget Bureau is counting to balance out the bigger budget the President is expected to present this month. Spending is expected to rise to at least $92 billion. Just a year ago the President estimated spending in the current fiscal year would be $80.7 billion, raised later to $81.5 billion.

The increased spending expected in the fiscal year starting July 1 will further benefit some industries and firms—and, hopefully, many workers. If this in turn inspires higher Treasury revenues, the budget may stay in the hoped-for balance.

Harry the Rhino Was a Favorite Despite Temper

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Harry the rhinoceros, who was fat, stupid and belligerent but nevertheless a favorite at the St. Louis Zoo, is dead at the age of 31.

That's pretty old for a rhino and zoo director George Vierheller said old Harry had been ailing for several weeks.

Harry was an Indian rhino, more valuable than his African counterpart, and drew large crowds.

He gave an early indication of his disposition when captured by "bring 'em back alive" Frank Buck in Nepal, India, in 1934. Harry charged through a net and nearly killed Buck.

And the beast's temper never improved. His favorite trick in the zoo was to back off, snort, paw the ground and hurl his 10,000-pound headlong at the bars in his cage.

Attendants got so they could predict Harry's temper tantrums and learned how to stop them.

They'd pitch him a peeled banana. Harry's low IQ kept him from grasping more than one idea at a time and when he began munching the banana he'd forget all about charging. Until the next time.

TEMPER . . . TEMPER—Actress Anna Kashfi, ex-wife of Marlon Brando, delivers a hard slap to Brando's face as the two left the Santa Monica, Calif., courtroom. Sea Lion Is Living Life Of Wanderer

OCEAN CITY, N. J. (AP)—Candy, the capricious sea lion, has appeared—and disappeared—again.

The animal who has been playing hide-and-seek with humans since Christmas flapped its flippers at the dock of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Noone Tuesday.

The Noones knew what the sea lion expected. It had first appeared at their dock last Thursday and eagerly accepted a fish handout.

They followed the same procedure Tuesday. They rushed out and bought $7.50 worth of fish for their voracious visitor. Then they made a quick telephone call to Al Sheridan of Island Park, N.Y.

Sheridan, a fisherman and boat builder, had read about the friendly sea lion and he said it was probably his pet, Candy. Sheridan said that Candy, whose appetite for fish is boundless, disappeared into the Atlantic Ocean two months ago when a school of his favorite food swam by.

He said his pet apparently has been wandering tramp-style up and down the Jersey coast accepting free lunches.

Sheridan climbed into his station wagon and headed for Ocean City as soon as he received the Noone's call. Back at the dock, the animal gulped through the fish dinner supplied by the Noones.

When Sheridan arrived, he took a handful of fish and went to the dock to try and persuade the happy-go-lucky sea lion to return to domesticity.

But Candy, if it was Candy, also is contrary. It took one look at Sheridan and plunged back into the salt water.

"It looked like my sea lion," Sheridan said.

The Coast Guard offered aid to the disconsolate Sheridan. It supplied a boat which carried Sheridan and the Noones up and down the lagoon, beaming a searchlight

Trio of Men Apprehended Near Bolivar

BOLIVAR, Mo. (AP)—Three men sought in connection with a weekend robbery and rape at Kansas City were found crouched in the backseat of a car stopped by troopers near Bolivar early today.

The fugitives, Kenneth Talbert, 22, Robert Earl Clemenson, also 22, and Michael Lonnie Hobbs, 20, had been kept under surveillance by Polk County officers.

They were spotted earlier in the day making a long distance telephone call from Tintown, Mo., in southeast Polk County. All are from Kansas City.

Suspecting they had telephoned Kansas City for someone to pick them up, Highway Patrol spotters kept track of a car all the way from Raytown, Mo., to Tintown. Two men were driving.

After the car left Tintown for Bolivar, troopers stopped it. The three men were inside. Also held were the drivers, identified by Sheriff Glen Carson as Hayward Talbert, father of Kenneth, and Ted Tenton.

They were turned over to Carson and Deputy Derral Ryan who, with Trooper Jeff Hanchy, had maintained an all-day telephone contact at Tintown with the patrol spotters.

All were jailed overnight in Bolivar.

Kenneth Talbert, Clemenson, Hobbs and another suspect, Lowell Dana Ellsworth, 22, also of Kansas City, were charged Tuesday by the FBI with kidnapping. Ellsworth surrendered in Kansas City.

Young Talbert is believed to be the owner of a car abandoned near Springfield, Mo., Monday. Three men fled from the car on Missouri 13 near the Greene-Polk county line while being chased by the Highway Patrol. A widespread search was maintained.

The rape victim, 46, told police she was forced into a car in Kansas City, Mo., and driven to Kansas City, Kan., where the attack took place. She is still hospitalized.

29 Korean Fishermen Die When Boats Sink

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—The government reported 29 fishermen drowned Tuesday when five South Korean fishing boats sank off the eastern coast. Another fisherman was reported missing.

Six other boats with about 30 men aboard had failed to make port early today and a search was underway.

The fishermen were aboard a fleet of 244 boats that set out Tuesday morning from Sok Cho on Korea's east coast. South Korean planes and ships helped to guide 233 safely back to harbor.

Watery Truck Crash Kills 23 Persons

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—The crash of a truck into the Rio Huanehue killed 23 persons Sunday at Valdivia, police said Tuesday. Eighteen persons were rescued. The truck was taking peasants, many of them Indians, back to their homes after shopping for a New Year's Eve celebration.

Truce Declared In Paternity Suit

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Terry Huntington, Miss U.S.A. of the 1959 Miss Universe contest, and Hollywood lawyer Arthur J. Crowley called a temporary truce in their paternity battle Tuesday.

At the request of attorneys for both sides the case was postponed to Oct. 1. Blood tests are planned in June.

Miss Huntington, 21, says Crowley, 36, fathered the child she expects in April. She seeks $950 monthly support and medical, hospital, court and attorney costs.

Crowley admits intimacy with the former beauty queen but claims he is not the father of the child.

Argentine Actress Gives Birth to Son

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Argentine actress Linda Crystal gave birth to a seven-pound, seven-ounce son Tuesday at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital.

Named Alexander, the baby is the first for Miss Crystal and her husband, Yale Wexler, a real estate developer.

under the docks. No sea lion was found.

Townpeople say the sea lion probably was the "Christmas seal" that arrived in North Wildwood, 15 miles south of here, the day before Christmas and accepted a fish handout before paddling away.

Moscow Plan Has Africa In 20 Years

BONN, Germany (AP)—A young African just returned from years of study behind the Iron Curtain says he was told in Moscow of a plan to bring Africa under Communist rule within 20 years.

Madhi Ismael, who represented Somali trade unions in Communist bloc countries, told a reporter that this information came from Mukheddin Bakhitov, general secretary of the Soviet Afro-Asian Solidarity Committee, and Lev Soukhanov, a member of the solidarity committee.

"We still have a chance to save Africa from communism but in 10 or 15 years it may be too late," said Ismael, who is 23. He and five other Somali students were expelled from Czechoslovakia last month.

Ismael said he had been attracted to communism while studying on a scholarship in London in 1957. He became a candidate for party membership and was offered a scholarship to study in Czechoslovakia.

"After studying economics and political planning for four years, I came to realize that communism has no place in Africa," Ismael said.

"In Somali we fought the British and French imperialists but now I have learned that the Communists are the greatest imperialists. They are the worst."

Ismael said more than 200 young Somali Communists are studying in Moscow, 40 are in Peking, 38 in East Germany and 5 to 10 in Poland. These Communists, he asserted are to form the cadre for Communist expansion in East Africa.

The West German government has granted Ismael's companion's one-year scholarships to study German and then will give them further aid to study at a German university.

Airline Safety Record for 1961 Near Record Low

WASHINGTON (AP)—The scheduled airlines achieved in 1961 a flight safety record bettered only twice since flying became a major industry.

The Civil Aeronautics Board's Bureau of Safety, reporting this Tuesday, said preliminary 1961 figures indicated a fatality rate, on the U.S. international and domestic airlines, of 0.29 deaths for each 100 million passenger miles.

This was the tenth consecutive year of a fatality rate of less than 1 per 100 million passenger miles. It compared with the 1960 fatality rate of 0.75.

Passenger deaths on the scheduled airlines totaled 150, including one person on the ground struck by a propeller.

The safest year for the airlines in recent times was 1954 with a fatality rate of 0.07. Next best was 1957 with 0.21.

21 Africans Killed In Fighting Rioters

LUSAKA, Northern Rhodesia (AP)—The government reported Tuesday night that 21 Africans were killed in operations against "rioters, intimidators, arsonists and saboteurs" led by the African nationalist United National Independence party in Northern Rhodesia last year.

The official report denied allegations by the party, led by Kenneth Kuunda, that security forces committed rape, engaged in atrocities and killed hundreds of persons from July to the end of October during nationalist disturbances in northern provinces.

Postpone Move To Secure Okay For Bond Issue

STE. GENEVIEVE, Mo. (AP)—Mayor William Scherer said a move to secure authorization of a $500,000 revenue bond issue to finance industrial expansion was postponed until next Monday.

A special city council meeting to review final plans and set a date for the bond issue election was put off Tuesday at the request of a Kansas City bonding firm.

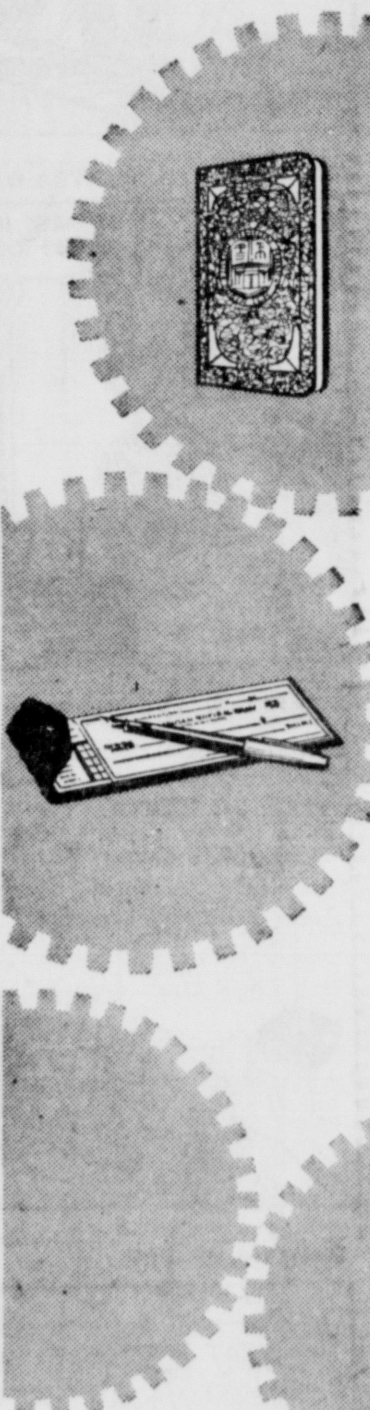

An amendment to the state constitution was passed last year authorizing such a bond issue, but the law has not yet been tested in the state supreme court, where a case now is pending. Uncertainty concerning some aspects of the law apparently caused the delay.

The bonding firm officials said they requested the postponement until after a scheduled meeting with members of the state Commerce and Industry Division in Jefferson City Thursday.

Walter Bowers, director of the Commerce and Industry Division, said several municipal bonding experts had been invited to the meeting. He said revenue bond matters would be discussed in general, and that the meeting was not called for a specific discussion of the Ste. Genevieve proposal.
